

Pacific Scientific Aviation Services is pleased to announce that an agreement has been reached with GCE Aviation to provide global support to the GCE range of portable oxygen products.

The relationship will see Aviation Services offering their already well established level of service for repair, overhaul and spares support including AOG services.

Aviation Services is proud to support GCE products globally, with a proven level of customer satisfaction!

Pacific Scientific Aviation Services Company provides customer focused repair, overhaul, and spares support services for operators of Pacific Scientific's products and other aircraft safety related equipment.

Equipment serviced includes fire extinguishers, oxygen equipment, pressure vessels, gauges, and aircraft seat restraints.

Pacific Scientific Aviation Services Company is a member of Pacific Scientific Aerospace.

For more information, visit www.gceuk.com